2011	3,281
2012	2,980

Notes:

1. Source: Foreign Worker System (FWS). Data extracted on October 9, 2012 (SSR).
2. Table shows the number of positions on positive Labour Market Opinions issued for Tim Horton's for all of Canada, from January 1, 2007 to August 31, 2012.
3. One LMO application may be submitted by an employer for any number of TFW positions.
4. Arranged employment opinions (AEOs) provided in support of applications for permanent residence are not included.
5. The decision to issue a work permit rests with Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC). Not all positions on positive LMOs result in the issuance of a work permit: on average 50% of positive LMOs obtain a work permit. In addition, there is an average delay of 104 days between the decision date and the date on which the TFW obtains a work permit and/or enters Canada.
6. Not all TFWs require an LMO to apply for a work permit. A number of exemptions exist, including those provided for in the General Agreement on Trade in Services and the North American Free Trade Agreement.
7. The numbers appearing in this table may differ from those reported in previous HRSDC releases. These differences reflect adjustments to administrative data files which normally occur over time and reflect refinement in methods of calculation for the purpose of increasing accuracy in the way statistical information is presented.

2. Table shows the number of positions on positive Labour Market Opinions issued for Tim Horton's for all of Canada by country of citizenship, from January 1, 2007 to August 31, 2012.
3. The country of citizenship of the TFW may be recorded in the FWS at the time of processing the LMO application based on information from the employer, but is not mandatory. When that information is not available, the positions are aggregated under the category "Not stated".
4. One LMO application may be submitted by an employer for any number of TFW positions.
5. Arranged employment opinions (AEOs) provided in support of applications for permanent residence are not included.
